

SOCIAL and PERSONAL

A WEDDING of much interest will be celebrated at 6:30 o'clock this evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Neele, of No. 1337 West Grace Street, when their daughter, Miss Susan Edwards, is married to Mr. Henry Dabney Willkerson, of Pittsburgh, Pa., the Rev. William Meade Clark, of St. James Episcopal Church, officiating.

Wight—Waller.
The wedding of Miss Nellie Lee Waller, daughter of the late Colonel Waller and Mrs. Waller, of Clifton, Widewater, Va., to Mr. William W. Wight, son of the late William W. and Mrs. Nannie Cunningham Wight, of Dover, Goodland, county, was celebrated yesterday at noon in Clifton Chapel, the pastor, the Rev. E. B. Burwell, officiating.

The November flower—the chrysanthemum—against a background of maidenhair ferns, was used with lavish and artistic effect in church and home decorations, the color scheme being developed in white and gold, and many candles on the altar adding to the wealth of floral beauty and greenery in the church. Mr. Louis Weitzel, of Richmond, directed the music, and played the bridal chorus from "Lohengrin" and Mendelssohn's wedding march.

The bride came in with her brother-in-law, Mr. Alfred J. Pyke, of Southampton, England, by whom she was given in marriage. She was beautifully gowned in white crepe de chine, and princesses, with yoke, berthe and sleeves of Irish crochet lace. Her veil was of tulle, and she carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley. Miss Mildred Pickett Waller, her sister, was maid of honor, and wore yellow voile trimmed with ecru lace. Her flowers were yellow chrysanthemums. Mr. Edward Cunningham Wight, brother of the groom, was best man.

A wedding breakfast at "Clifton," the bride's home, served with abundant Virginia hospitality. The parlors, ceremony at the church. The parlors, hall and dining-room at "Clifton" were gay with chrysanthemums and ferns, vivid touches of color being supplied by holly berries and gorgeous sprays of autumn foliage. Candles in silver candelabra, many branched and yellow-shaded, gave an artistic finish to decorations. Mrs. W. H. Venable, sister of the groom, assisted in doing the honors.

Telegrams of congratulation were read, elegant wedding gifts were displayed, and the health and happiness of the newly wedded pair pledged in toasts that sparkled with wit and sentiment.

Afterward Mr. and Mrs. Wight left for New York, to sail at once to Bermuda Islands, where their honeymoon will be spent. Subsequent to November 15th they will reside at 1902 Hanover Avenue, this city, where Mr. Wight is thoroughly identified with social and business life, he being the manager of the Southern Manufacturing Company.

The beauty of the day and the pleasure of the celebration rendered yesterday's trip an ideal one for a large party of wedding guests, leaving Richmond in the morning and returning in the afternoon. Among those who were with Mr. and Mrs. Wight, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Venable, of the groom's family; Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Crump, Mr. and Mrs. Beverley Randolph, Mr. J. A. Briggs, Mr. R. C. Jones, Mr. Walter Turpin, Mr. Julian Skelton, Mr. J. A. Briggs, Mr. A. E. Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Kenyon, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Laird, Mr. and Mrs. William Chalmers, Mr. R. C. Roelker, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Tallaferr, Miss Janet Morris, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Trim and Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Cardwell.

Norton—Rutherford.
The wedding of Miss Evelyn Rutherford, daughter of the late Thomas Rutherford, of Richmond, to Mr. Arthur Wilcox Norton, of Chicago, took place quietly at 8 o'clock yesterday evening in the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. G. A. Davenport, of 205 West Franklin Street. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Robert Nelson, of Blacksburg, Va., and was witnessed only by the immediate families of the bride and groom.

Mr. Alexander H. Rutherford, of Baltimore, the bride's uncle, gave her away. Miss Anna Rutherford, of Baltimore, was maid of honor, and the bridesmaids included Miss Evelyn Norton, of New York; Miss Elizabeth Davenport, of Richmond; Miss Ellen Rutherford and Miss Alexandra Dushane, of Baltimore. The groom's best man was Mr. Sidney Stewart, of Syracuse, N. Y., the ushers, Messrs. Kenneth Norton, of New York, Griswold Cheeserbor-

Baughan—James.
Notice has been received here from Halifax, N. C., of the marriage of Miss Stella M. James to Mr. John Cleveland Baughan, both of Richmond. The ceremony was performed on Monday by the Rev. C. G. Christian.

Converse—Lay.
The Baltimore Sun of yesterday says: An engagement of interest in Baltimore and Richmond, just announced, is that of Dr. Henry A. Converse, instructor in physics at the Baltimore Polytechnic Institute, to Miss Caroline McCaw Lay, daughter of Mr. David Lay and granddaughter of the late Judge John Lay, of Richmond. The wedding will take place at the home of the bride, in Richmond, the latter part of this month, and will be quiet.

Dr. Converse is a Virginian by birth and a graduate of Hampden-Sydney College and Johns Hopkins University. For several years he has been a member of the faculty of the Polytechnic Institute, where he is popular among the students. He is the grandson of Dr. Emerson Converse, for many years editor of the Christian Observer, and the son of Mr. Henry Converse, a prominent lawyer of Harrisonburg, Va.

WINDSOR, VA., November 3.—One of the most beautiful marriages of the season took place this A. M. at 7:30 o'clock, when Miss Emma M. Raby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mills Leroy Watkins, was wed to Dr. James M. Raby, a prominent physician of the town. Rev. W. W. Staley, D. D., of Suffolk, was the celebrant. Miss Garrie Watkins played the wedding music.

The entire lower floor of the house was beautifully and artistically decorated in cut-flowers, potted plants and lighted candelabra. There were no attendants, but little Louise and Mary Herbert Watkins, nieces of the bride, were ribbon-bearers, bringing in the ribbon and forming the ceremony.

After the ceremony they left on east-bound train for Norfolk, en route to New York, Boston and other Northern cities.
